COMPLAINT

Complainant files this complaint with the Federal Election Commission (the "FEC" or "Commission") under 2 U.S.C. § 437g(a)(1) (2010) against Nevada Senate candidate Sharron Angle; her authorized campaign committee, Friends of Sharron Angle, Alan B. Mills, Treasurer; Daniel "Danny" Tarkanian; and Harry Reid Votes ("HRV"), Allison Van Over, Treasurer (collectively "Respondents") for numerous violations of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended ("FECA" or the "Act"). Danny Tarkanian is apparently an agent of the Angle campaign, and yet has also registered and is operating a political committee, HRV, in order to attack Angle's opponent, Senator Harry Reid. Accordingly, HRV's expenditures for communications attacking Senator Reid constitute coordinated communications, and thus excessive contributions to Angle. It appears that HRV is making and Angle is accepting contributions in violations of the Act. Furthermore, the use of "Harry Reid" in HRV's name, as well as HRV's disclaimers on certain advertisements, also constitute violations of the Act and the FEC's regulations.

11044300636

A. Factual Background

Although Danny Tarkanian lost to Sharron Angle in the Nevada Republican Senate Primary, he has since begun to campaign on her behalf. For example, as reported in the Las Vegas Sun, Tarkanian hosted a "Tark Week," seven days of campaigning for the Republican Party, during which "[h]e and his wife, Amy, joined volunteers in calling hundreds of people to ask them to support Reid opponent Sharron Angle."¹ Furthermore, Tarkanian is making appearances to support Angle's campaign, including at "Gun Rights Night," a Friends of Sharron Angle event at which both Sharron Angle and Tarkanian will be speaking.² Tarkanian appears to be working as an agent of the Angle campaign.

At the same time Tarkanian has been working with the Angle campaign, he has also formed a separate political committee, HRV.³ HRV filed as a 527 organization with the Internal Revenue Service on August 20, 2010, listing Tarkanian as the organization's custodian of records.

Harry Reid's voting record.").

and contact person.⁴ HRV then registered as a political committee with the FEC on August 24, 2010, listing Tarkanian as the custodian of records and designated agent.⁵ HRV's Statement of Organization indicates that it was formed to oppose the candidacy of Harry Reid. HRV has created a website (www.harryreidvotes.com) and at least one radio advertisement opposing Senator Reid's candidacy. The radio advertisement ends with the disclaimer, "Harry Reid Votes is Responsible for the content of this advertisement."⁶ HRV is also planning on airing television advertisements attacking Senator Reid.⁷

Tarkanian was asked about "being in the campaign and doing this independent thing" in a recent television interview with Nevada reporter, Jon Ralston.⁸ Tarkanian responded that he was "a man of many hats," did not deny that he was a part of Angle's campaign, and asked "Do you want me to be just a one issue person here?" The interview segment ended with Ralston's observation that "All right. He's independent. He's in the Angle campaign."

B. Legal Analysis

1. Coordination and Excessive Contributions

Pursuant to 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a)(7)(B)(i), "expenditures made by any person in cooperation, consultation, or concert, with, or at the request or suggestion of, a candidate, his authorized political committees, or their agents, shall be considered to be a contribution to such candidate." The Commission's regulations implementing this provision further explain that an expenditure for a communication will be considered an in-kind contribution to a campaign if it is

(1) paid for by an entity other than the campaign; (2) meets certain content standards, including by being an electioneering communication, public communication that contains express advocacy, or a public communication that clearly identifies a candidate for the Senate within 90 days of an election; and (3) meets certain conduct standards regarding the coordination between who paid for the ad and the campaign or an agent of the campaign. See 11 C.F.R. §§ 109.20(b), .21. An individual is considered an "agent" of a campaign if he or she has authority to, inter alia, request, suggest, or make a communication on behalf of a campaign. 11 C.F.R. § 109.3(b). Tarkanian's role in the campaign is that of a spokesperson; in that role, he speaks for the campaign publicly and appears on public communications advertising events; he may also have a role in the creation of communications featuring his name. Thus, Tarkanian appears to be an "agent" of the Angle campaign as illustrated by his phone banking, speaking on behalf of the Angle campaign, appearances at events and on event publicity, as well as his wide range of other "surrogate" activities.

Because of Tarkanian's role in the Angle campaign, expenditures by HRV for radio or television advertisements opposing Harry Reid are coordinated communications and thus in-kind contributions to the Angle campaign. For example, HRV's radio advertisement currently available on its web site constitutes a "coordinated communication" because it is (1) paid for by HRV, a "person" other than the Angle campaign; (2) is a broadcast communication that advocates against a clearly identified federal candidate within 90 days of the November general election and thus satisfies the "content" standards in any number of ways; and (3) because Tarkanian, who runs HRV, is an agent of the Angle campaign. Because Tarkanian is an agent of the Angle campaign, his creation of advertisements through HRV are – by definition – coordinated communications.

Although it is unclear how much money HRV has spent attacking Senator Reid to date, there is no question that its expenditures for its planned radio and television advertisements, as well as any other public communications, will plainly exceed its $5,000 contribution limit to the Angle campaign under 2 U.S.C. § 441a(a). HRV will therefore be making, and Angle will be accepting illegal contributions prohibited by the Act.

Even apart from Tarkanian technically acting as an agent of Angle's campaign, HRV's communications are probably still "coordinated communications." Given Tarkanian's role as a spokesman for Angle, it is likely that he, the campaign, and other individuals at HRV have engaged in activity that would independently satisfy the conduct prong of the Commission's coordination test. For example, through Tarkanian or other individuals, Angle or her campaign have probably requested or suggested that HRV create its ads, been materially involved or had substantial discussions about the creation of their ads, or otherwise coordinated their activities. In that case as well, HRV would again be making, and Angle receiving, illegal contributions. The Commission should investigate any and all possible avenues of coordination between HRV, Tarkanian, and Angle.

2. Prohibited Use of a Candidate's Name

Pursuant to 11 C.F.R. § 102.14(a), the name of any non-connected political committee may not include the name of any candidate for federal office. In other words, only a candidate's authorized committee may register with his or her name. The only exception to this rule is for draft committees, or special projects of political committees that clearly and unambiguously show opposition to the named candidate. See 11 C.F.R. § 102.14(b).

Here, Tarkanian's political committee, "Harry Reid Votes," plainly includes the name of a federal candidate, "Harry Reid." This is not a special project, but the actual name of the political committee. Accordingly, none of the exceptions apply and HRV and Tarkanian have clearly violated 11 C.F.R. § 102.14(a).

3. Insufficient Disclaimer

Under 11 C.F.R. § 110.11, "public communications," such as radio advertisements, from a political committee must include a statement clearly identifying the name of the committee that paid for the advertisement; the committee's street address, telephone number, or web site address; and whether or not the communication was authorized by any candidate or candidate's committee. Radio advertisements specifically must include an additional statement that the committee is "responsible for the content of this advertising." 11 C.F.R. § 110.11(c).

Here, HRV's radio advertisement states that "Harry Reid Votes is responsible for the content of this advertising," but it does not state "Paid for by Harry Reid Votes;" HRV's address, phone number, or web site; or whether the advertisement was authorized by any candidate, such as Sharron Angle. This last omission is particularly troubling given the apparent coordination of HRV's advertisements with the Angle campaign and its agents. By omitting this information, HRV has violated the FEC's disclaimer requirements.

C. REQUESTED ACTION

Danny Tarkanian has violated the Act because he has created a political committee to attack Harry Reid, while at the same time, acting as an agent of Sharron Angle's senate campaign. Expenditures made from Tarkanian's committee, Harry Reid Votes, constitute "coordinated communications" and in-kind contributions to the Angle campaign. As Harry Reid Votes has apparently spent well over $5,000 on its coordinated expenditures attacking Senator Reid, the committee has made, and Sharron Angle has accepted, excessive contributions in violation of the law. Tarkanian and Harry Reid Votes have further violated the law by illegally including the name of a federal candidate in the name of an unauthorized political committee, and by failing to satisfy the FEC's disclaimer requirements.

We respectfully request that the Commission investigate these violations and any additional coordination between Harry Reid Votes, Tarkanian, and Sharron Angle and her campaign; enjoin Respondents from further violations of the Act; and assign the maximum fines permitted by law.

Sincerely,

Sam Lieberman
